

Remuneration report 2023

Introduction

This remuneration report provides an overview of how Eltel AB's ("Eltel" or the "Company") guidelines for executive remuneration to senior executives, which were adopted by the Annual General Meeting 2020 (the "Remuneration Guidelines"), has been applied during 2023. The remuneration report also provides specific details on the remuneration of Eltel's CEO. In addition, the remuneration report contains a summary of Eltel's outstanding share-related and share price-related incentive programmes. The remuneration report has been prepared in compliance with Chapter 8, Sections 53 a and 53 b of the Swedish Companies Act (2005:551) and Rules on Remuneration of the Board and Executive Management and on Incentive Programmes issued by the Swedish Corporate Governance Board which now is administered by the Swedish Stock Market Self-Regulation Committee.

Further information regarding remuneration to senior executives, required by Chapter 5, Sections 40-44 of the Swedish Annual Accounts Act (1995:1554), is available in note 29 on pages 75-76 in the Company's annual report for the financial year 2023 (the "Annual Report 2023").

Information on the work of the remuneration committee in 2023 is set out in the corporate governance report, which is available on pages 41-47 in the Annual Report 2023.

The remuneration report does not include remuneration to the board of directors which is decided annually by the Annual General Meeting. Such remuneration is reported in note 29 on pages 75-76 in the Annual Report 2023.

Key Developments 2023

The CEO summarises the Company's overall performance in his statement on page 6-7 in the Annual Report 2023.

The Remuneration Guidelines

The board of directors considers that a prerequisite of the successful implementation of the Company's business strategy and safeguarding of its long-term interests, including its sustainability, is that the Company is able to recruit and retain a highly competent management with the capacity of achieving specified goals. To this end, it is necessary that the Company can offer competitive remuneration to motivate senior executives to do their utmost. The Company's Remuneration Guidelines enable the Company to offer senior executives a competitive total remuneration.

Pursuant to the Remuneration Guidelines, the remuneration to senior executives shall be based on market terms and may consist of the following remuneration components: fixed base salary, variable remuneration, pension and certain other benefits. Variable remuneration covered by the Remuneration Guidelines shall be based on criteria that aim at promoting the Company's business strategy and long-term interests, including its sustainability. In addition, the general meeting may – regardless of the Remuneration Guidelines – resolve upon share-related or share price-related remuneration.

The board of directors may temporarily deviate, in whole or in part, from the Remuneration Guidelines if special reasons justify doing so in an individual case and such deviation is necessary in order to meet the Company's long-term interests and sustainability or to ensure the Company's financial viability. During the financial year 2023, the Company has deviated from the Remuneration Guidelines by paying cash bonuses to two senior executives outside the scope of the Company's existing incentive programs. First, a sign-on cash bonus was paid to Eltel's President and CEO, Håkan Dahlström. Second, a retention cash bonus was paid to the Managing Director of Eltel Denmark, Claus Metzsch Jensen. The deviations were resolved by the board of directors as parts of the Company's strategy to offer attractive conditions of employment which enable the Company to attract and retain a management with high competence and capacity to reach the targets set up by the Company, including regarding sustainability.

No additional deviations from the Remuneration Guidelines have been decided and no exemptions from its decision-making process have been made during the financial year 2023. No remuneration to senior executives covered by the remuneration report has been paid from another undertaking within the same corporate group and no remuneration has been recouped during the financial year 2023. In addition to remuneration covered by the Remunerations Guidelines, the general meeting has resolved on remuneration to the board of directors and on the implementation of long-term share-related incentive programmes.

The Remuneration Guidelines, adopted by the Annual General Meeting 2020, are summarized on pages 39-40 in the Annual Report 2023. The auditor’s report regarding the Company’s compliance with the guidelines is available on the Company’s website at www.eltelgroup.com.

Base salary includes vacation pay. Other benefits include car benefit and other benefits such as wellness allowance, other health-related benefits, lunch, health and medical care insurance etcetera.

Variable cash remuneration

Pursuant to the Remuneration Guidelines, variable cash remuneration shall be based on criteria that aim at promoting the Company’s business strategy and long-term interests, including its sustainability. The key performance criteria for senior executives are primarily financial, i.e. EBITA in local currency, Net Working Capital (NWC) in EUR and safety measured as the Lost-Time Injury Frequency rate (LTIFR). A minor part of certain senior executives’ key performance criteria can be discretionary under special circumstances. The minimum financial performance of the Company for any variable cash remuneration pay-out is defined by the board of directors as a level of result in EBITA. The criteria are recommended by the remuneration committee and ultimately determined by the board of directors. The short-term variable cash remuneration can amount to a maximum of 80 percent of the fixed base salary for the CEO. At full outcome, the short-term variable cash remuneration can amount to a maximum of 45 percent of total remuneration to the CEO. The company is not able to recover variable cash remuneration paid out.

² Base salary has been fully reported as fixed remuneration. Since a part of the variable remuneration is pensionable, pension expenses are not included in the calculation.

³ Please note that this amount concerns sign on bonus payable and paid out in 2023.
