Eltel and Telia extends existing agreement to a value of SEK 200 million, about EUR 18 million

Eltel Sweden and Telia continue an existing collaboration for another two years based on an option in the current agreement. The estimated order value for the option years is SEK 200 million, about EUR 18 million.

The agreement covers a range of services, including planning and project management for the development of the network of the future, as well as the dismantling of outdated telecommunications poles and copper lines.

The current agreement expires in December 2023, after which the option period of two years, until December 2025, begins.
